If you are passionate about video games, UI and confident in writing C++, please apply via our career portal.

Applications should include your resume and a cover letter with the earliest starting date.

Day to day of a UI Programmer at Ubisoft Berlin:

- Creating and updating UI components to meet the intent of the game's design and flow
- Using your expertise to help colleagues make informed choices about the UI
- Creating layouts for UI Artists and Designers to work in
- Debugging and profiling code on multiple platforms

What you bring:

- Previous professional experience, in the capacity of a UI Programmer role
- Good understanding of UX/UI design principles and ability to think user centric
- Programming skills in C++
- The understanding of working efficiently in a respectful and mature cross-functional team setup

We aim to have a wide and diverse range of profiles within our studio; thus, we are looking forward to being surprised by your application. The most important quality for us is to be a strong team player with a resilient and positive attitude.

What we want to offer you:

We want to build a studio in which everyone feels inspired, empowered and connected. We believe developers do their best work when they feel empowered. We thus aim to give you a lot of autonomy. In return, we expect you to be self-responsible and stay on top of your game by continuously developing your skills. Furthermore, we know it is important for a developer to feel comfortable. With that in mind, we aim to provide a variety of everyday benefits which we hope will help you feel great including:

- Flexible working hours
- External training, education in our in-house guilds and knowledge sharing with other project teams
- Fresh fruit, discounted gym membership, support for childcare, company pension scheme
- Working in an innovative and international company - 70% of our employees come from abroad
- Mobility Budget for public transportation, bike leasing or car park spots
